

"THE PICNIC"

Turtle Rock Ranch, atop Mount Diablo, was the location of the company picnic this year. Everyone had a delightful time and believe it or not, the weather couldn't have been more perfect. Larry Pease was chairman with Virginia Paoli as his assistant. Our honored Chef, Mr. Schimbor, made sure that everyone had plenty to eat and drink. The children won prizes for various games and foot races. I might add, they also invented a new game called, "Taking the Dry Ice from the Ice Cream". Fortunately, this game was halted before too much ice cream had melted. For the adults there were such attractions as swimming, volleyball, bingo, ping pong and horseshoes. Bernice Teeter and Joe Ursini had a competitive contest seeing who could win the most cans of beans playing bingo. All in all the whole event was a huge success. We would like to personally thank all those who helped including, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Clark, Helen Prefore, Frank Szantho, Jerry Sullivan and Richard Montgomery.

VACATIONS - WELCOME BACK?

Everyone fished, swam and camped through another vacation. Now we can share our experiences with each other.

Our leader and favorite yachtsman, Mr. Hallikainen, took his family on a cruise along the coast of Southern California. His son, Harold, was chief navigator for the complete trip. At one time during the voyage only one engine was functioning properly and visibility was so poor they were forced to use radar.

Gordon Floyd also went sailing and spent most of his time relaxing at Pine Crest Lake.

Only one employee was able to make it to Expo '67, Dick LeBlanc. He also traveled to Cape Cod for some fishing.

Bernice Teeter hit the jackpot in Reno while her husband was trap shooting at the Rod and Gun Club there.

Oklahoma City was chosen as "Sparky" Nelson's vacation spot, where he visited relatives and enjoyed fishing.

Pete Fredzess and his family traveled over 7,500 miles on their vacation. Some of the stops they made were Arizona, Mexico, San Diego, Los Angeles and Nevada.

Ken Weagant went to Lake Shasta, where he enjoyed swimming and fishing.

Chicago was Pamela Field's place of rest, where she went to the museum, theater and even found time to do some shopping.

The Redwood Parks in Santa Cruz were Richard Montgomery's campsites. He also worked on the company lunchroom while on vacation.

Pui Leung went to Dunnigan, which is near Woodland, and visited the walnut and almond orchards.

Flo Fields went to Russian River swimming and to Fresno to visit friends.

Barbara Goode, along with her family and neighbors took the Tiburon Ferry to Angel Island where they had a most delightful time.

East Park Reservoir was chosen by Judy Sherwood and her family as a good "swimming hole" during her vacation.

Mr. Waner took his family to Lake Berryessa where they enjoyed boating, water skiing and fishing.

Much of Northern California was covered by Arnie Hunn and his family who camped in many interesting places.

Las Vegas, Lake Mead, Arizona, Grand Canyon,

Utah, Mt. Zion National Park and Reno were all visited by Opal Taylor.

Pete Radovich relaxed, slept, rested, napped and took it easy during his vacation.

The John Chin's spent their vacation at Camp Sierra swimming, eating and resting. John reports that the temperature was very hot.

Ensenada, Mexico was seen by Joe Ursini and his family. They also took the 17 mile drive between Monterey and Carmel.

Mr. Kaufmann was forced to spend his vacation with the Air Force Reserves.

Eero Vasankari went to Chicago, Detroit, Canada, Minnesota, Yellowstone National Park, Carson City, Virginia City, and Lake Tahoe. (Whew!!)

Probably the most exciting trip was taken by Andy Guild who visited his wife's parents in Munich, Germany. Andy says they are very modern over there and even have Oben Ohne (topless).

Frank Szantho took many short fishing trips, around the Bay Area, including one to Lake Berryessa where he joined Mr. Waner and neither caught anything.

Disneyland, San Diego, Mexico and Apple Valley were all seen by Candy Nicholson and her husband.

Virginia Paoli and her husband borrowed her dad's new camper and went fishing at Lake Alpine. She reports there was snow in July.

Moving to a new home took most of George Kuehn's vacation although he found time to visit the Sequoia and Yosemite National Parks.

Unfortunately Henry Schuetz had to spend his vacation at Camp Roberts on military duty.

Julius Rosin and his family enjoyed many outdoor sports at Lake Pillsbury which is North of Clear Lake.

The 17 mile scenic tour from Monterey to Carmel was taken by Ernie Shanks and his family.

Bob Peacock went to Oregon where he visited the Calgary Stampede, Glacier Park and Diamond Lake.

A grand and glorious week was spent at Lake Tahoe by Tom Hale and his family.

Ron Bultena traveled to South Dakota where he enjoyed many wild game meals with his relatives.

Lake Shasta was Shirley Ramacher's vacation spot. She fished, but all she got was poison oak.

Kira Loncheades spent two weeks at Russian River. She walked four miles to Guerneville and back everyday for exercise.

Larry Pease showed his relatives from Connecticut and Southern California all the sights in the Bay area.

Los Angeles, Disneyland, Knott's Berry Farm and Las Vegas were among Pete Lantelme's vacation stops.

Jim Valle spent one week in the Sequoia National Park. His second week was spent caring for his boy who fell off a horse and broke both arms.

Mr. Stairs traveled along the coast of Southern California to Monterey, Santa Maria, San Luis Obispo and Pismo Beach.

Anthony Netto spent part of his vacation painting his house. He found time to visit some scenic spots in San Francisco, however.

Toby Moya's vacation interest included motorcycle races in Fresno, the Liberace Show at Tahoe and the Bobby Darin Show here in San Francisco.

As this paper goes to press Tom Clark and his wife are vacationing in Sweden.

So ends another round of vacations..... see you next year.

NEW EMPLOYEES:

Cordell Cose, or "Corky" as he prefers to be called, is the new addition in the Accounting Department. At the age of two Corky's family moved to Richmond from his birth place, Long Beach. After being employed by Standard Oil for ten years, his father became a minister. Therefore, Corky completed his High School education near his father's first parrish, which was in Chico. He then attended Chico State College and Contra Costa College, each for one year. His hobbies include water skiing and hunting. Although he is a carefree bachelor now, this will all change in a few months when he plans to take the big step toward matrimony.

*****

Candy Nicholson, often seen bouncing up and down the halls of H. I., is the new employee in the Engineering Department. Candy lived in Alaska until one day she decided to come to California.

When arriving here, Candy found a job as a waitress. She soon met James Nicholson, he was doomed.....they were married. Jim and Candy and their daughter, Lisa, 1 year old, live in Pinole.

The Nicholsons' hobby is their pink stock car which they race at Vallejo Speedway.

INTRODUCING: Betty Brostrom, Claude Ashburn and Reyes Jacinto. (More about them in the next issue.)

*****

THE ANNUAL "OLD TIMERS" DINNER was held September 19 aboard Mr. Hallikainen's yacht, Sujan II. The dinner honoring employees who have been with H.I. for 10 years or have reached their 5th anniversary this year was attended by:

Mr. Hallikainen	Julius Rosin
Tom Hale	Fumiko Takeshita
Horst Herrmann	Eero Vasankari

Affected by sea sickness, etc, and could not be present were:

E. F. Schimbor	Al Keil
John Chin	Rich Netto
Pui Leung	Norm Waner

**Speaking of length of employment..... Hallikainen Instruments' average term of employment has reached a high of 4 3/4 years per employee.

THE ISA SHOW this year was attended by Mr. Hallikainen, E. F. Schimbor, Norm Waner and Tom Clark. Frank Eisner, representative of Rotameter Manufacturing, a division of Elliott, also joined them. On display for Hallikainen Instruments was our new Distillation Analyzer, In-line Viscometer, Cloud Point Analyzer and Rotameters. The show lasted from September 11 to September 14 and Tom Clark reports there was a great deal of interest shown in our products.

BITS ABOUT 'EM:

RESIGNATIONS: On August 25, Henry Collins accepted a position with World Airlines as a fabric, rubber and leather technician. We will all miss him and his friendly smile.

Ralph Hayes, a former Electronics Technician in the Test Department, decided to try his luck at cattle ranching in Montana.

Also resigning recently was Peter Schwarzbach, who was offered another job opportunity.

OUR DEEPEST SYMPATHY is extended to Judy Sherwood whose mother passed away the early part of July.

WINNER!! Arnie Hunn was a luck winner of the Shell Service Stations Americana Game. He was very thrilled to receive his tremendous cash prize of $1.00.
